Howe, her daughter, lived in Norfolk for ten years and during that time was often visited by her. Many Norfolk people have pleasant recollections of Mrs. De Maranville and will regret to learn of her death.

W. P. Williams, state agent of the Royal Union Mutual Life Insurance company of Des Moines, has made a proposition to the Norfolk Business Men's association for the building of an opera house in this city by his company. His proposition is to pledge the first year's premium money, received on all life insurance by his company in the city, towards the project.

The family of George Heney, living four miles from Stanton, had a sad Decoration day. They went fishing in the afternoon in the Owen sloughs. A ten year old son took a gun out of the bottom of the wagon and it was accidentally discharged. The shot took effect in his sister's neck, killing her instantly. The funeral took place at the Methodist church, Stanton, yesterday.

F. M. Ringquest of Oakland spent yesterday in the city with friends. Mr. R. was a member of the Third Nebraska regiment and his soldier life in Cuba gave him a very favorable impression of that island. He convinced himself that there are wonderful business opportunities there and in company with a friend, whom he has interested, will soon return to Cuba and embark in the produce business.

J. M. Collamer and family left this morning for Sioux City, which they will make their home. The Collamers have lived in Norfolk for the past 17 years and have been so thoroughly identified with its social and business life during that time that their going away is like the removing of prominent landmarks. Their host of friends will miss them and while they regret their departure they take with them their kindest wishes for continued comfort and happiness.

The utilization of the farmer's products is becoming more noticeable each year. Corn stalks have already a commercial value of their own. The farmers of this section will be interested in this item taken from the Nebraska City News: "Jacob Payne is home from a visit at Owensboro, Ky., where he went to investigate the manufacture of cellulose from corn stalks. The company there uses 15 tons per day and they pay the farmer $3 per ton for the corn stalks. There are about two tons of corn stalks to the acre which nets the farmer a neat sum after his corn crop is gathered and his field is clear when he gets ready to go to work in the spring. Mr. Payne is confident that he has offered sufficient inducements to the gentleman to come to this section and locate a factory."

Dr. Frank Salter, after a drive to Hoskins and back yesterday afternoon, concluded in the edge of the evening, that it would be pleasant to give his family an outing. So, with his wife and baby, he drove down town. In front of Leonard's drug store the horse became frightened and ran west. At the corner of Norfolk avenue and Fifth street the occupants of the buggy were thrown out.

Mrs. Salter into the street, the buggy passing over her, while the baby and the doctor landed on the sidewalk. Mrs. Salter received a slight scalp wound, the baby's forehead was cut and scuffed, and all were severely bruised. Those who witnessed the accident only marvel that any of them escaped with their lives. The horse was caught a few blocks further west and the buggy was considerably shattered as a result of his mad race.

The item which follows, taken from the Chicago Tribune of last Sunday, will interest News readers as one of Norfolk's young ladies is among the soloists. Her many friends here will congratulate Miss Gerecke on the honor and distinction that has been accorded her recognized rare musical ability. The Tribune says: "The spectacle 'America' will be produced at the Auditorium on Tuesday evening for the benefit of the Home for Destitute Crippled Children. Elaborate preparations have been made, and everything points to a performance of unusual brilliancy in the way of costumes, scenery, dances and groupings. Among the soloists engaged are Mrs. Frances Guthrie Moyer, Miss Anna Voll, Miss Edith Bates, Miss Ida May Hallowell, Miss Nellie Gerecke of Nebraska, Mr. Fissit and Mrs. Heitman. Other attractions are the mandolin and guitar club of 100 members, under the direction of Professor C. D. Smith; the Garfield band and orchestra of 50 pieces, and 500 women, men and children in chorus."

Why Women Are Nervous.

The frequent cases of nervous prostration or utter collapse of the nervous system under which women "go all to pieces," as the saying is, have caused much thought and investigation on the part of physicians.

Certain inorganic substances are well known to cause various forms of nervous diseases which are readily traced to the poisons producing them. Further research leads to the belief that alum is a prevailing cause of so-called nervous prostration, for the symptoms it produces on the nervous system after its absorption into the blood are very remarkable indeed. Experiments physiologically made upon animals by Orfila, Professors Hans Mayer, Paul Seim and others, show that alum frequently produces no visible symptoms for many days after its introduction into the body. Then follow loss of appetite and other alimentary disturbances, and finally a serious prostration of the whole nervous system. The most prominent physicians now believe that "nervous prostration" and many affections of the nerves from which both men and women suffer are caused by the continued absorption of alum into the system.

It is probable that many medical men are unaware of the extent to which salts of alumina may be introduced into the body, being under the impression that the use of alum in bread is prohibited. Alum, however, is still used surreptitiously to some extent to whiten bread and very largely in making cheap kind of baking powder. In families where baking powder is generally used great care should be exercised to procure only those brands made from cream of tartar. The alum powders may generally be distinguished by the lower price at which they are sold.—British Medical Review.
